Analyze:

a. Those student in the least restrictive environment passed at higher rates than more restrictive environments. This is alarming because the more restrictive the environment the less the student teacher ratio should be which should allow for more intensive instruction. As a resource teacher I can speak on the dynamics of these more restrictive environments. Multiple disabilities are included in this group and the disabilities are more profound. With district cuts in staff, this has crippled the ability to effective serve this needy population.

b. My desired position as a future independent contractor will enable me to fulfill my mission as a life-long learner.

c. My experiences and previous knowledge has been enhanced by my education, research in the case studies I have reviewed, and direct on the job training with special education children.

Appraise:

My findings are very beneficial because partnerships with the parent, school and community need to be improved.

Transform:

a. Insights I have gained include a heightened awareness of due process implications.

b. My future plans are directly on target with the need to provide quality, individualized, education services for special needs citizens and increase parent and community involvement.
